

Enterprise Multimedia Information Broadcast System

System Overview

This system will take full advantage of the company's IP network. By setting up of high-definition display devices in the public areas, it provides text, pictures, video and other type of information. It also provides high quality information release and communication for leadership speech, team experience exchange, internal training and learning, and become the platform for leadership, staff interaction and training.

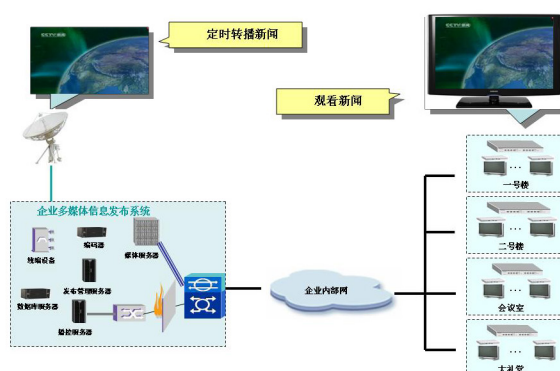

Live Meeting

Scheduling flexibility

OB

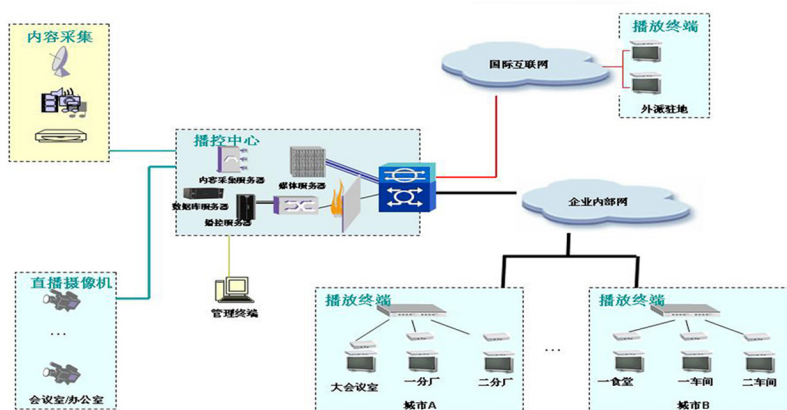

Main features

- High-definition play
- Across the city of information transmission capabilities
- Real-time Live play and stored content play

The system structure

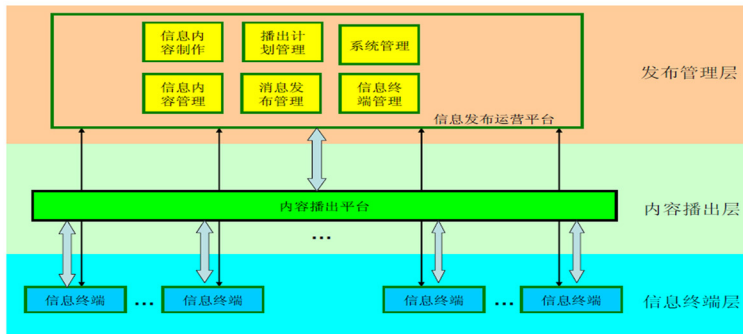

The system consists of four parts :

Conference system, Play control center, Play system, The underlying network

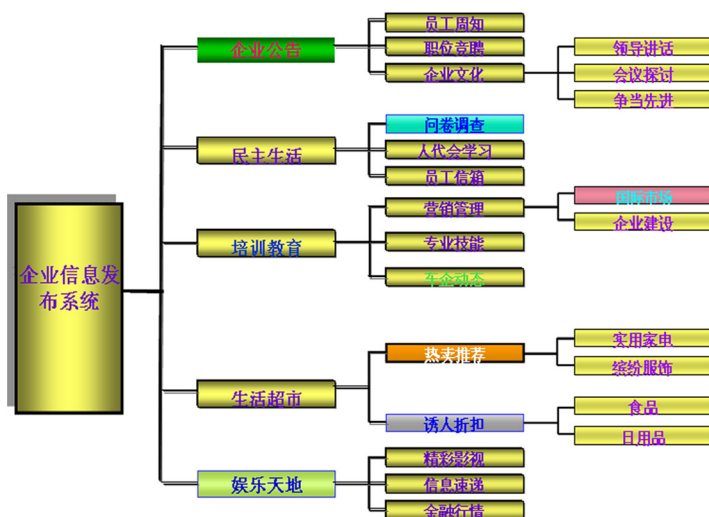

Enterprise Multimedia Information Broadcast System

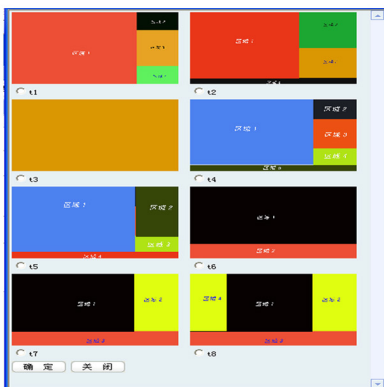

Back-office systems and content publishing systems are powerful

Column rich

Play flexible

According to the time and area, select the template

By time period, and manage playlists

Scenario

